

Imagine a world where businesses not only avoid harming people and the planet but actively contribute to their health and well-being. Is that truly possible?

Now, picture an organisation that places people and the planet at the heart of everything it does. Could such an organisation thrive?

We believe it's not only possible but essential.

There is a better way that helps us make meaning of life and regenerates our souls, while accelerating the success of the organisation.

But to achieve this, we must pause, step away from our usual mindset, and take the time to envision a new way forward.

Join us for a conversation series that reconnects us to what matters.

Each conversation invites us to imagine a future where organisations, people and the planet not only coexist but thrive together.

Together, we will explore how to:

- Drive organisational success by serving the planet.
- Accelerate growth by rethinking how we show up in the world.
- Build thriving organisations through radical collaboration and communication.
- Make strategic decisions that honour the interconnectedness of all things.
- Set new benchmarks that sustain both our businesses and our planet.

Join leaders from both large and small businesses, as well as the non-profit sector in Geneva and let's co-create a future where success and sustainability go hand in hand!

This series is designed for you if you...

- Refuse to accept high turnover, disengagement, and burnout as the norm.
- Believe there are more effective ways to communicate and collaborate.
- Feel that we need to shift from a mindset of scarcity and competition to one of abundance and cooperation.
- Know that every thoughtful action, no matter how small, can make a difference.
